PHILOSOPHY FROM FLO

FLORENCE STILLMAN, R.N., M.S.N.
EXECUTIVE DIRECTOR

An issue of continuing importance to me is Computerized Adaptive Testing, specifically the C.A.T. research project. My interest in that research continues at a high level because I'm so very anxious to obtain sufficient pertinent information which will answer legal and practical questions necessary to make the transition from the current paper and pencil test to a computer delivered and adaptive style exam.

At the annual Delegate Assembly of the National Council of State Boards of Nursing, Inc. in August, 1991, boards of nursing made the decision to adopt C.A.T. no earlier than November, 1993. In the meantime much is to be accomplished, the field testing research on C.A.T.- R.N. is to be duplicated for purposes of C.A.T. - P.N., proposals from testing services evaluated and information brought to the delegate assembly for approval before the contract to a national vendor to administer C.A.T. can be signed, and then information regarding costs must be formulated by National Council of State Boards of Nursing and submitted to boards of nursing for their use in financial planning along with timelines for implementation. We are progressing steadily but there is much yet to be accomplished.

C.A.T. has been discussed by National Council, member boards and others since the early '80s. Research was begun in a two phase process with Phase I focused on development of C.A.T. - R.N. software, pilot testing to investigate capabilities of the software, interactions of nurses with the software and pursuit of external funding for the project. Emphasis throughout has been placed on communication of outcome to member boards.

Phase I was completed in 1988 and the Delegate Assembly then approved the commencement of Phase II which was focused on feasibility of the C.A.T. - R.N. measuring system. Eight states were used as field test sites during Phase II to gain information about psychometric comparability and administrative logistics. Missouri was one of those eight states and completed that portion of field testing in February, 1991.

Phase II showed that computer testing is psychometrically comparable with paper and pencil testing, that computer experience had no effect on the outcome of the exam, and that testing security could be maintained with computer adaptive testing. Information from field testing also showed that demographically diverse candidates are not disadvantaged through use of the C.A.T. - R.N. exam.

During the administration of C.A.T. - R.N. all candidates received the same training exercises. Only two color-coded keys are needed to take the exam and the need for training exercises is minimal even for those with no prior computer experience. Even after the training exercise a sheet containing instructions for use of the two keys remained on the table at the side of each computer for use by the examinee during testing.

Each candidates test is unique with C.A.T.; it is assembled as the examinee answers questions. Each succeeding question is selected by computer from a large item bank based on the accuracy of answer and difficulty level of the previous question. The computer must also select those questions which fit into the various categories of the test plan according to prescribed percentages. As the test progresses examinees are actually tailoring the exams to their own ability levels thus decreasing the number of questions necessary to make a determination of success or failure.

The Board members and Board staff are most anxious to implement C.A.T., a real innovation in licensing exams. Toward that goal, Missouri has agreed once again to be a field test state, this time for C.A.T. - P.N. We are committed to the continuation of the investigation of feasibility, comparability and the security of administration and are excited to participate in yet another aspect of this wave of the regulatory future.

You may hear from us soon asking you to participate. If we call on you, please respond positively and be part of the project. It is something to brag about and exciting to be able to contribute to the profession in this manner.

NEW FACES AT THE BOARD OF NURSING, PART II

In our Fall 1991 Newsletter we introduced you to several new staff and explained the reorganization that was taking place within the Board of Nursing. Since that time there have been additional moves, promotions and even some babies.

Sandy Sebastian has been promoted to Administrative Aide to Discipline and Practice.

Connie Clarkston has been promoted to Secretary II to the Assistant Director for Discipline and Practice.

Pam Eiken is our Clerk Typist II/Special Projects person.

Pam Porting is now Clerk Typist II to Discipline and Practice.

Rose Oligschlaeger has graciously accepted the position of full time Clerk Typist II, which leaves a half-time position available within the office.

Rita Tadych, R.N., has accepted the position of Assistant Director for Discipline and Practice, but will not officially start with the Board until January, 1992. To give you some background, Rita obtained a B.S.N. in Nursing in 1968 at Marquette University in Milwaukee, Wisconsin. In 1974 she received a M.S. in Educational Administration and Supervision from the University of Wisconsin in Milwaukee. In 1979, Rita received a M.S.N. in Community Mental Health Nursing from the University of Missouri in Columbia, and in 1990 a PhD in Counseling and Psychology from the University of Missouri in Columbia. Rita presently resides in Columbia, Missouri. We are very happy to have Rita join our staff and would like to welcome her aboard.

On the BABY side, Mary Ann and Michael Jacobs are the proud parents of a new baby boy. His name is Seth William.

Cynthia Quetsch, who is our Board Counsel, and her husband James McAdams also had a new baby boy. His name is David Quetsch McAdams.

VISIT WITH VADA

VADA E. ARROWOOD, R.N., M.S.Ed.
ASSISTANT DIRECTOR FOR EDUCATION AND LICENSURE

On October 22, 1991 a Task Force made up of Practice Committee members of the Missouri State Board of Nursing began the task of another review of Chapter 6, Intravenous Fluid Treatment Administration Rule. This is the rule which allows Licensed Practical Nurses, who have successfully completed Board approved programs to participate in limited intravenous therapy. Since this rule's inception the Board has been repeatedly asked to clarify individual situations. For a period of time the Board was issuing clarification statements and publishing them in hopes that such action would assist persons responsible for IV Certified LPN's to understand this expanded practice. However, as new techniques and technology continue to develop the nursing community continues to question the scope of practice of IV Certified LPNs.

The outcome of this meeting was to return to the original purpose of the rule which states that it "defines intravenous fluid treatment, limits and defines the scope of intravenous fluid treatment which may be performed by intravenous certified Licensed Practical Nurses." The ultimate limitation of the revised IV therapy rule is that the scope of practice for IV Certified LPNs is limited to the venous system. If the task in question does not pertain to the venous system then the IV Certified LPN can not perform the task. It must be intravenous!

The following is a copy of the proposed revisions to rule 4 CSR 200-6.010 Intravenous Fluid Treatment Administration as it appears on page 1836 of Volume 16, Number 24, December 16, 1991, Missouri Register. This proposed rule is now open to a thirty (30) day public comment period. Your comments are invited and will be responded to by the Board of Nursing.

The proposed rule begins on the following page:

POSITION STATEMENT ON NON-NURSE CAREGIVERS IN EMERGENCY DEPARTMENTS

At the October, 1991 Board meeting the Missouri State Board of Nursing adopted the following:

Missouri State Board of Nursing believes emergency nursing is a specialty area of nursing that involves substantial specialized education, judgement and skill based on knowledge and application of principles derived from the biological, physical, social and nursing sciences, including, but not limited to:

1. Assessment, nursing diagnosis, nursing care, and counsel of persons who are ill, injured or experiencing alterations in normal health processes.
2. The administration of medications and treatment as prescribed by a person licensed in this state to prescribe such medications and treatments.
3. Responsibility for the teaching of health care and the prevention of illness to the patient and his family.
4. The coordination and assistance in the delivery of a plan of health care with all members of the health team.
5. The teaching and supervision of other persons in the performance of any of the foregoing.

Emergency services shall be under the medical direction of a qualified staff physician with the delivery of comprehensive nursing care for emergency department consumers being the responsibility of the registered nurse.

Registered nurses must participate in a collaborative process with all members of the emergency health care team in defining the roles and responsibilities of the non-nurse caregiver in the emergency department.

Non-nurse caregivers, including but not limited to Emergency Med-Technicians/Paramedics in the emergency department must practice within the parameters of a clearly defined position description that does not exceed legal boundaries of practice in the state of Missouri and that clearly delineates appropriate lines of responsibility and accountability as evidenced on the emergency department organizational chart.

Non-nursing caregivers cannot be utilized to replace the registered nurse in the coordination and continuity of health care. The non-nurse caregivers in the emergency department must be directly supervised by a registered nurse 24 hours a day to assure comprehensive care.

The emergency room registered nurse and the non-nursing caregiver, including but not limited to paramedics and EMTs, must work in a collaborative manner to maximize and evaluate nursing care. All caregivers must work jointly in the care of consumers. The standards of care in the emergency department must be consistent with the standards of care in the department of nursing.

A VISIT AT THE STATE BOARD EXAMINATION

On September 11, 1991, I received a long awaited letter from the Missouri State Board of Nursing. The letter invited me to the practical nurse licensing examination. The letter asked me to arrive by 9:00 a.m.

I arose at 5:00 a.m. on October 16 so I could be at the University Plaza Trade Center in Springfield on time. When I arrived at 8:00, a line of nervous graduates was already forming in the parking lot. Vada Arrowood, lead examiner greeted and admitted me to the testing center. After introductions to the board of nursing staff, they gave me two books to read. One book described the strict security precautions. The other book provided procedures and job descriptions for the proctors. Following this Lori Scheidt gave an oral orientation to the proctors. The staff made me feel welcome. They were most gracious in anticipating my questions and providing me with information about the procedures.

At 9:00, the parking lot was full of people. The door opened and the applicants filed in two by two. Team members checked admission cards and directed the applicants to preassigned seats. Many requested permission to use the bathroom, since they had been waiting in line for some time. Some had questions about errors on their admissions cards. The team told them to check with the table proctor.

It took approximately 40 minutes to get the 955 graduates seated. There were 28 tables with 35 chairs each. It took another 30 minutes to give the general instructions about the board of nursing, introductions of examination team, placement of belongings, location of rest rooms, lunch arrangements, availability of examination results, uniqueness of examination, and uniformity of administration. Only their admission card, the provided pencil and the test could be on the tables. They were to place all other materials on the floor under the table. Ms. Arrowood told them each examination is unique and is not administered again. This was the same test administered throughout the United States on the same day under the same conditions. Table proctors then distributed the tests while checking seating labels, admissions card and identification. Ms. Arrowood then read specific instructions verbatim from the procedure manual.

The graduates entered the testing room at 9:00. The testing actually began at 10:17. They had two hours for each test. During the testing, the examination team monitored closely for any attempt to cheat. Some finished within 55-60 minutes. They indicated they were finished to the table proctor, then checked out one at a time. The proctor verified their identification again and placed a green dot on the admission card. The team member by the exit door checked the green dot also as they exited and informed them to return at 1:30 for the second test. If they wanted to go to the bathroom, staff told them they had to use one outside of the testing room.

The parking lot began to fill with waiting families, friends. The crowd grew as applicants also gathered waiting for their classmates. It became very noisy. Repeatedly, the staff talked with them, but their enthusiasm was hard to control. In orientation for future graduates, it would be valuable to caution them to move away from the exit door to minimize noise level for those remaining in the testing room.

Ms. Arrowood announced when fifteen minutes remained of the testing time. When the time had ended, she told them to close the test booklet and put down the pencil even if they had not finished the test.

Within fifteen minutes of the exiting of the last applicant, the staff had inventoried and packaged the tests under specific security arrangements. They were ready for the mail service to pick up.

At 1:30, the graduates entered very quickly and were in their seats within 15 minutes. Instructions took only 15 minutes this time. At 2:07, they began the test.

The excellent organization of the board of nursing impressed me. They administer four tests a year. They were ready for the students and seated them in a timely manner. They have this down to a science. Within 30 minutes of the closing of the second session, the tests were on the way to the testing service.

The staff members were strict with the graduates, but also kind and pleasant. Besides insuring the strict security of the test, providing an optimal physical and emotional environment was their priority.

Security measures impressed me. The tests were never unattended. Proctors signed them out and were accountable for them until they were repackaged. The tests were never out of their control. If a graduate had to go to the bathroom, he/she had to close the test. A proctor secured it until the graduate returned. The examination team cannot look inside a test booklet. No one can read the questions except the graduate. If someone needed a tissue, they had to raise their hand, and staff provided one for them. The movement of chairs and coughing echoed in the cavernous room. Any time the graduate moved around in the center, she/he had to have the admission card in her/his possession.

If it was necessary to use any type of aid or any accommodation for any of the graduates, this was documented for the testing service. Any incidents different than the prearranged plan was also documented.

The staff was extremely gracious to me. I was only an observer, but they shared information that they could with me. I was free to walk among the tables and watch the procedure as long as I had no contact with any of the graduates.

The examination team impressed me. There were approximately 35 quality proctors to work with the 8-10 board staff. The staff wore easily identifiable red knit shirts with MOSBN on the back. Proctors had name tags. These volunteer proctors receive a minimum stipend to assist. These were quality people who took this job seriously. They were friendly but firm. Many are experienced, nonworking or retired professionals who know and understand students and security. They want to provide an optimal environment for success, but maintain the extreme measures.

I felt excitement and concerned about being a part of this examination. I wondered if my presence might somehow be detrimental to the performance of my 24 graduates. Would my being there put them at ease or would they feel more pressure to perform well on the test. Our graduates had experienced a mock board examination. It had been very traumatic for them because the faculty and I had been very strict and stern. Since we had put such pressure on them in the mock boards, I felt they may feel this same pressure at seeing me.

After the afternoon test, I visited with some of our graduates as well as two from Booneville and two from Sedalia. They all stated that the mock board exam had been very beneficial. Yes, we were more strict, stern and unfriendly. They felt the conditioning prepared them for the actual exam. The actual exam was not as stern, therefore, they were able to relax when they saw that the pressure was not as great. All expressed gratitude for the experience of the mock examination.

This was a valuable learning experience for me. The friendliness of the team, the strictness of the security, and the organization of the Missouri State Board of Nursing impressed me.
